Writing

"Procrastination is the thief of time, collar him"
- means that you shouldn't waste your time on unnecessary things. I agree with author's point of view. Time-wasting means that you have no time ~~for~~ to do something you actually have to do. Avoidance of procrastination helps with completing all your plans. Idle problem of it is that you can feel sad when there is no time left to do anything. For example, when I go back from school I don't want to do anything at all, but I know if I won't really do my homework I'm going to feel worry and anxious. But you shouldn't hesitate too much. Some of my friends prefer playing computer games rather than doing their homework. I don't think playing computer games or just doing your hobbies is bad, but only if you have free time. Procrastination is the opposite of free time.

The conclusion is: if you postpone all the things you should do, you won't be able to do ~~at~~ them any more. It will be too late. Or just like Charles Dickens said: "Procrastination is the thief of time, collar him."
